GOVERNOR MILLER GUARD OF HONOR MAY NOT CHANGE DIRECT PRIMARIES

Republican Leaders Split and Glad He Was Going Instead of Governor Fears to Use Party Whip.

Minedal From a fituit Correspondent of The MARANY, N. Y., March 16 .- The Direct Primary Law may not be dissurved by this Legislature after all.

A real fight is on between the leaders of both Houses over the proposed measure, and it is a certainty that abe bill framed by the Whitley spesaint legislative committee will not be controd by the Assembly unless the Covernor cracks the whip and detves the Republican jambs into the Miller fold. But it is quite possible, notwithseineding that the repeal of the Primary Law was made part of the party platform, that the Governor may keep his hands off. He has not sent any special measage to the Legislature on the subject, and it is recalled that when spoken to some weeks ago concerning such a measage, he said; "The Legislature may heat me to it; they may take action before I get the measage in."

Early this week the Republican Senators adopted a plan to repeal the law in part, but this was done only after a long and bitter fight behind should be some and before the proposition was not popular with the Senators from up-State, and it is no secret that many of their constituents are opposed to any doctoring of the direct primary. mary Law was made part of the

Most of the Governor's programme has been put over, and now the party leaders are looking over the field, figuring the cost and summing up any possible profits. The big capital which has come to the Hepublican Party, so far as can be figured. Is the consummation of the Governor's economical plan. Outside of that the programme has made many enemies within the party lines.
